

RETURN MERCHANDISE FORM

Returns are accepted within 45-days of the order date if item(s) are returned in their original condition. Anything returned after 45-days of the order date are not eligible for refund of store credit.

A refund will be issued once we have received your returned items along with this form. Any items that are damaged when we receive them are not eligible for refund. Refunds do not include any shipping or handling charges, except in the case of faulty or damaged items.

Your refund will be credited to the original form of payment used for the original transaction. If the original form of payment is no longer valid, the refunded amount will be provided via a website product credit. Please note that credit card refunds may take up to 10 business day for your bank to complete, depending on their processing times. This can vary greatly between credit card issuers.
